OF THE UNITED STATES

726 JACKSON PLACE

WASHINGTON 6, D. C.

WISS ANNA LOND STRAUSS President

October 5, 1948

Rear Admiral R. K. Hillenkoctter Director Central Intelligence Agency 2h30 E St., N. W. Gashington, D. C.

My dear Admiral:

The League of Women Voters, established in 1920 to promote citizen participation in government, has for many years been interested both in public administration and particularly in sound personnel practices.

In this connection, we are presently preparing for publication a pamphlet which deals, among other things, with the Federal loyalty program.

We are aware of course that your Department (Agency) is defined as a "security" agency and that you as its head are authorized to discharge employees without reference to Executive Order 9835.

From the Civil Service Commission we have obtained certain data with respect to the egencies operating under the Executive Order exclusively. We would like to round out this picture with information as to the procedure being followed by the security agencies in dealing with employees suspected of being subversive, disloyel or security risks. We would therefore appreciate your giving use the following information:

- 1. Do you distinguish between loyalty cases and security cases?
- 2. What procedure has been established within your agency for handling both types of cases?
- 3. Where is the employee's last source of appeal?
- 4. To what extent is the accused employee advised of the nature of the charges and permitted to confront witnesses against him?
- 5. That standards does your agency apply in determining that an employee is (a) disloyal and (b) a security risk?
- 6. What are your latest figures as to the number of cases closed and pending in your Department (agency).

We will be grateful for your marly reply. Will you also be kind enought to give us the name of the person with whom we should communicate in the event that your regrates additional questions.

/s/ Anna Lord Strause
